-NEA Meet- Ike Aid Policy Blasted

Nothing Done
For Schools,
Says Adlai

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, former Democratic presidential nominee, Wednesday night attacked President Eisenhower's program of school aid before an audience of school teachers.

Stevenson, in a speech prepared for the National Education Assn. convention and broadcast over the CBS radio and TV networks, quoted President Eisenhower as saying just after he assumed office: "Our school system demands some prompt effective help."

"Yet, today," said Stevenson, "two and one-half years later, when this need has become acutely critical, nothing has been done. Instead of 'prompt effective help,' we await a conference on education to be held at the White House next fall."

"Now a conference is fine," said Stevenson, "and it will dramatize the great significance of our educational system and its critical deficiencies, but it seems to me a pitifully inadequate excuse for years of doing absolutely nothing about America's No. 1 domestic need—schools and teachers."

2,000 To Meet

Stevenson referred to the White House conference on education, scheduled for this fall, a meeting of some 2,000 educators of various creeds, races, occupations and geographical locations who will make recommendations on school problems.

The former Illinois governor said the President recommended to Congress last February that it pass legislation for seven billion dollars worth of new schools.

"But to get them," said Stevenson, the President "recommended that Congress pass not a law but a miracle."

"For meeting this seven billion-dollar need, the President proposed grants of 66 millions a year for three years. This is 33 cents a year to meet every 35 dollars of admitted present, crying need."

Disheartening

Stevenson termed it "interesting if disheartening to reflect that while proposing an effective grant of only 66 million dollars a year for three years for school construction aid, the President at the same time proposed a federal grant for highway construction aid—mostly on a matching basis—of 3 billion dollars every year for the next 10 years! This is 45 dollars of federal funds for highways to every dollar for schools."

"I will resist the temptation to draw inferences from the unequal competition between automobiles and education in our government these days," said Stevenson, "but I deny that this 45-1 ratio between highways and schools represents the standards of priority of values of the people of America."

Scotts Bluff Is 'Disaster' Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Small Business Administration (SBA) Wednesday declared disaster areas in Goshen and Platt Counties, Wyo., and Scotts Bluff County, Neb., as a result of recent floods and a tornado in the area.

Owners of homes or businesses damaged in the counties and adjacent areas now become eligible to apply to SBA for rehabilitation loans which carry three per cent interest.

The agency has field offices in Denver and Omaha.

Air Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate passed and sent to the White House Wednesday legislation authorizing a five-year, 25-million dollar study of air pollution.

Final approval of the study, urged by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), came with Senate adoption of House amendments to the pending bill.

Temps Might Drop A Little

Nebraska temperatures climbed higher in most of the state Wednesday than the day before, but are expected to be somewhat lower Thursday.

A windier day was expected with scattered thunderstorms in the southeast and extreme east predicted for Thursday afternoon and Thursday night.

Highs Thursday are to be in the mid 80s in the northwest and low 90s in the southeast.

All temperatures reported Wednesday were above 90, with the highest 101 at Imperial. Residents of Lincoln, Grand Island and Chadron were plenty warm with the temperature at 96. The state's low maximum was 93 at Omaha.

Flash Rains Hurt Crops, Cause Flood

Hop, skip and jump thunderstorms early Wednesday dumped quantities of rain on Diller, Odell and Omaha with heavy rain also reported in other southeast Nebraska communities.

The downpour totaled 4.35 inches at Diller where it was accompanied by wind and hail, which caused some serious crop damage.

Odell reported 3.80 with nearby areas getting up to 5 inches.

Waters rose rapidly in Indian Creek after the downpour.

The creek went out of its banks at Diller and Odell and at low-lying spots between the two towns, flooding State Highway 103 at Diller.

Diller Telephone Company linemen sailed down Highway 103 in a boat to repair downed lines.

Water Goin' Down

The creek crested at Odell at 7 p.m., when the water was barely over the highway.

Some wheat and oats were damaged, but most serious damage was caused to knee-high corn that the hail ripped to shreds.

Henry Lillie, who farms the John Andrews land north of Diller, said he thought his 85 acres of corn could not recover from effects of the storm.

Besides being slashed by the hail, some corn was flattened and washed out by the heavy rain.

Two tractors and other equipment in a shed on the Ralph Long farm near Diller were damaged when the wind blew the shed down.

Some sections of Omaha received more than four inches of rain. Northern parts of the city reported flooded basements and streets choked with mud.

Civil Defense medical supplies stored at a fire station were ruined when four feet of water flooded the basement.

Wednesday evening, western state points received rain. Chadron had 1.8 of an inch, Sidney .08 and Scottsbluff a trace.

Other outdoor rainfall reports included York 1.43, Fairbury 1.15, Geneva 1.25, Steele City 2.50 and Beatrice a trace.

Latest rainfall reported by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, the Lincoln Weather Bureau and the Associated Press:

Chadron	.18	Omaha	1.31
Clay Center	.25	Off Air Base	.05
Diller	3.75	Sidney	.23
Fairbury	1.15	Simsbury	.08
Farmington	.75	Superior	.23
Geneva	1.25	Sutton	.10
Hebron	.02	Western	.80
Nelson	.23	Wymore	1.15
Norfolk	.06	York	1.43
Odell	3.00

Rains which some residents estimated at five inches, accompanied by wind and hail, sent Indian Creek out of its banks at Diller, where it was reported as much as an eighth of a mile wide. Shown here is a boat on a section of State Highway 103. (Star Staff Photo.)

-Turncoats- Yanks Leave Peiping

Americans' Fate
Is Up To U.S.
Officials

HONG KONG (INS)—The three "turncoat" American prisoners of the Korean War who have been living in Communist China left Peiping Wednesday en route home—and to possible court martial.

The three men are William A. Cowart of Dalton, Ga.; Otho G. Bell, of Olympia, Wash., and Lewis Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex.

Advice from the mainland said the three left the Chinese Communist capital of Peiping under police escort and accompanied by a Red Cross official.

They are expected to reach Canton Saturday morning in time to board a train for the border of the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

Want To Leave

Peiping announced June 18 that the three Americans and two Belgians, Roger Devreinet and Louis Verdyk, who had crossed over from the United Nations to the Red side in Korea, wanted to leave.

Subsequently the Peiping news agencies accused some of them of drunkenness and misconduct and said the Red authorities wanted to be rid of them.

Cowart at first was reported as having said he wanted to settle in Japan, but later decided he wanted to go home.

The fate of the three Americans will be up to the Defense and Justice Departments after the men are handed over to the British Red Cross in Hong Kong and in turn to the Americans.

Ashland Man Hurt As Train Hits Grader

Harry Wills, 61, of Ashland, was reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Lincoln after being injured when a road grader he was driving was struck by a Burlington train on a railroad crossing in Ashland.

Wills suffered fractured ribs and a pelvic bone injury.

The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m. at the Silver St. crossing in Ashland.

The Burlington dispatcher in Lincoln reported that Wills was struck by a local freight carrying four cars plus the engine. He said the train was leaving town and was going very slowly.

No damage was done to the train, the Burlington official reported.

Ashland Policeman Willie Kephart said Wills' grader evidently was unable to get off the tracks in time to avoid being struck.

Conductor of the train was A. B. Sanford and engineer was R. P. Smith, both of Lincoln. The train runs between Ashland and Prague.

New Revolt Threatens Walla Walla Prison

Cons Win Major Promises
Which May Not Be Kept

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Rebelling convicts at the Washington state prison Wednesday ended their 26-hour revolt and released unarmed nine hostages after winning promises of major concessions which may not be kept.

Soon thereafter, prison officials were met with another threat of revolt — by employees reluctant to return to work in the seething prison.

The end of the revolt, which started at 9:46 a.m. Tuesday, came shortly before noon as associate Warden Ted Bezzerides and eight other hostages walked out of the prison control center.

Their release was obtained after ringleaders in the revolt, which gave control of more than half the prison and its 1,700 inmates to the convicts, were promised efforts would be made to save them from punishment.

The promise was made in a nine-point agreement signed by Dr. Thomas Harris, state director of institutions who carried on the negotiations with five of the 33 hardened men who touched off the revolt.

The promise of possible escape from punishment appeared quickly doomed, however when Arthur Hawman, Walla Walla county prosecutor, said he would ignore it and "proceed with prosecution just as soon as we obtain all the facts."

Another target of the prisoners, Charles Simons, head of the classification department, appeared headed for suspension or transfer to another institution.

His removal was demanded by the convict committee which said Simons was incompetent and his department unduly delayed preparation of parole studies. Harris told the prisoners he would investigate Simons' work and would transfer or suspend him meanwhile.

Objections from prison guards came late Wednesday, with a spokesman saying the employees may not be willing to return to work "unless some demands of their own are met."

"We have just managed to find out what the terms of the settlement were," a spokesman said. "And they are giving more concessions for the prisoners than they do for us."

Officers said the order requiring the prisoners to surrender their weapons by 5 a.m. Thursday was "Malarky."

"Not one-third of the weapons taken in the kitchen and other places are being surrendered and we are not going in there when we know that dozens of knives may be cached in cells."

Reprieve No. 6 Approved By Justice Tom Clark

Convicted Sex Slayer Has At Least
A Few More Months To Live

WASHINGTON (AP)—Caryl Chessman, death cell author, won his sixth reprieve from San Quentin's gas chamber Wednesday.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark stayed execution to allow the book-writing convicted sex terrorist another day in court.

Clark

Chessman had been scheduled to die in the California Penitentiary July 15.

The stay gives him at least a few more months to live. A court spokesman said it will hold until all the justices have a chance to act on Chessman's plea for a review of his attempted rape-kidnaping conviction. The court does not reconvene until October.

Unfavorable Rulings

On a number of previous occasions the high court has ruled against Chessman in one way or another.

In San Quentin, Chessman became aware that the Supreme Court had taken action when requests of reporters for interviews were relayed to him.

"I knew Justice Clark had my request for a stay," Chessman said, "but I didn't expect action until Friday or so. I put on my radio headset in my cell, and then I heard the news."

"It's come through, guys!" I yelled to the others on death row. Lawyers for the author of "Cell 2455, Death Row" have questioned whether the transcript of his trial, the record used in appeal, is really authentic. They attacked it on grounds the original court reporter died before transcribing all his notes. The reporter wrote in an old style shorthand, and some of his jottings never were deciphered.

Chessman's book, recently the subject of a movie, was written in the death house cell he has occupied for seven years. In it he lays most of his troubles to society itself.

Another Book

He has another book in the works. Entitled "Trail by Ordeal," it is due to come out this month against a background of mystery.

San Quentin authorities say they impounded Chessman's manuscript under an order banning the publication of books by condemned men. Chessman's agent declares the work in the publisher's hands is genuine.

At his trial Chessman denied he was the "red light bandit" accused of posing as a policeman, flashing a beam into parked cars in lovers' lanes around Los Angeles and forcing women into acts of sexual perversion.

The 34-year-old Chessman, has a genius-like IQ of 178. And for a time in San Quentin's condemned row he hatched his own legal maneuvers. His first book changed that. Royalties furnished him the money to hire lawyers.

Offices, Funds Asked As CD Begins To Move

By ROY CAMPBELL

Star Staff Writer

A call for headquarters space went out Wednesday from the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense Committee, which held its first organizational meeting at the City Hall.

Emmett Junge, director of health, and a committee adviser, said office space for maintenance of civil defense personnel was being sought.

Co-Chairmen Mrs. Melba Scott and William Swanson suggested to the combined committee and Acting Mayor Pat Ash that appropriations may be asked of the city and county for maintenance of the office. A budget request would have to go to the county within the next two weeks and to the city by Aug. 10th, the committee decided.

The money would be used, possibly, for a permanent secretary to handle office affairs. There also would be the cost of telephone service and a post office box.

The committee took under consideration the setting up of precinct captains for working out a county-wide plan of civil defense. The group plan, they said, would work to the benefit of the county and city in all emergency measures, including the possibility of an atom bombing.

Cobe Verner, former health and safety director during World War II, told the committee that such organization "vastly helped" the city during the 1945 floods in the city. He said the city was organized with volunteers on a precinct basis at that time.

Mrs. Scott said civil defense in the county at present is a "paper organization" and that "it will be some time before there is a full working organization." She said women's groups in the county were "eager" to get to work on civil defense matters.

Pointed out in the budget consideration matter was the fact that Omaha appropriated $54,000 for expenses during the next two years. This cost included a paid director, assistant, and two secretaries.

Lincoln has had to date only a volunteer organization.

Organization of a full-time civil defense organization, including volunteer police and firemen, was expected to develop at the committee's next meeting July 15, according to Swanson.

Three Die In Tractor Accidents

From Press Dispatches

Two farmers and a 2-year-old tot died in Nebraska Wednesday as the result of tractor accidents.

Edwin Lundstrom, 54, of Kenesaw, was fatally burned when a tractor he was driving on a country road turned over in a ditch just after topping a hill and burst into flames.

Lundstrom was using the tractor to tow a trailer loaded with a windrower.

Michael Eugene Shipman, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shipman of Grand Island, was killed when he became entangled in the power takeoff of a tractor.

The mishap occurred at his parent's home eight miles north east of Grand Island. The boy reportedly fell from the seat of the tractor into the power takeoff mechanism.

Earlier Wednesday, Knute Rasmussen, 59, who farmed near Washington, died in a Fremont hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday in a tractor accident.

The tractor upset as he was spraying weeds.

New Security Benefits OK'd In House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted Wednesday night for new social security benefits for women aged 62-65 and disabled workers over 50.

The committee also decided to bring within the Social Security System such professional workers, as lawyers and dentists, and to include several other groups not now covered.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) outlined the plan, which was sponsored by the Democratic majority. He said he did not hear any "substantial disagreement" when the committee adopted the proposal on a voice vote.

The measure would: 1. Lower from 65 to 62 the age at which women can become eligible for social security benefits.

After 50 2. Provide for payments to disabled workers under the system after age 50, instead of 65.

3. Permit continuation of payments to children past the age of 18 if they are disabled.

To pay for these benefits, which would become effective on Jan. 1, 1956, the social security tax rate would be boosted 1 per centage point on that date.

That would hike the present social security payroll levy of 2 per cent each on employee and employer to 2 1/2 per cent each as of Jan. 1, or a total rise of from 4 to 5 per cent.

Cooper said he hopes for House action before this session's end.

Whether the bill can clear the Senate this year remains doubtful, however.

Food And Drug Policing Inadequate

AGENCY TAKEN TO TASK

..By Inquiry Group

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Food and Drug Administration lacks enough money and men to do its job of protecting the public health, a Citizens Advisory Committee reported Wednesday.

The committee of prominent citizens, appointed by Secretary of Welfare Hobby and supported by congressional funds, said Congress has given the agency "meager financial support" in recent years. It noted that the agency's funds were cut in the last two fiscal years while its responsibilities grew.

It also has some criticism for the Food and Drug Administration itself, saying it has failed to develop an adequate educational program for the food and drug industry and the public.

In its report to Mrs. Hobby, the committee said the agency—charged with regulating products valued at 60 billion dollars annually in 100,000 establishments—now "has insufficient funds, staff, and facilities to meet its essential responsibility of protecting the public health."

The report said that compliance "with all phases of the laws is not completely satisfactory," and added:

"Satisfactory compliance can be obtained only if the Federal Food and Drug Administration and its functions are properly understood, supported, financed and staffed."

The document declared that in the face of substantial increases in the national population, the growth of the food and drug industry and the development of new drugs, there are "fewer FDA enforcement people in 1955 than there were in 1941."

Concerning inspection of industrial plants, the report said "the FDA does not now have the number of inspectors to do the job of protecting the public which Congress expects."

Third Muny Swim Pool To Get Boost By Ash Recommendation

City Councilman Pat Ash said Wednesday that Lincoln may have a third municipal swimming pool soon, possibly by next year.

As acting mayor, Ash said he will recommend the addition of the swimming structure for the southeast section of the city. He said this would follow population trends in that direction.

A stout backer of recreational facilities, Ash envisioned three or four swimming pools in the city, with a master pool possibly being planned for recreational facilities at Rogers Tract at 33rd and O Sts.

University Place's new pool, built and finished last year for use in 1955, was one of the recommended sites. The recommendation was made by a subcommittee of the park and recreation board.

A possible site for the new pool, suggested Ash, is near the Southeast High School. Another would be on land now used for tennis courts at 37th and South Sts.

A possible study could be made of city-owned tracts of land, Ash said. He said the new pool, which he will suggest when city budget hearings start within the next two weeks, will likely run into the $70,000 to $75,000 figure. The University Place pool cost nearly $65,000 which, Ash said, demanded cutting cost estimates too close.

Thousands of windows in business and residential districts were shattered. Flower beds, gardens and crops were beaten into the ground, roofs were punctured and autos and airplanes badly damaged by the wind-driven hailstones.

The storm was driven by winds up to 54 m.p.h.

Shortcut Spending Charged

Demo Hits Foreign Aid Fund Handling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) Wednesday accused the Defense Department of a "deliberate shortcut" of a congressional edict on foreign aid spending.

Mansfield also said he has written Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson demanding an explanation of "conflicting testimony" to Senate and House committees on amounts of foreign military aid money voted in past years and still not obligated for spending.

An answer to the senator, it was understood, was on its way to Mansfield's office but its contents were not immediately disclosed.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the Pentagon "obligated" 575 million dollars of past military aid funds on the very last day of the past fiscal year—June 30.

Carried Over

This "bookkeeping transaction," he said, has the effect of avoiding a specific prohibition written into the new foreign aid measure by both the Senate and the House.

Both branches inserted language forbidding more than 200 million dollars of previously - voted aid funds from being carried over into the new fiscal year, which started last Friday.

The aim of the prohibition, Mansfield said, was to compel the Eisenhower administration to limit its spending to money included in the new aid bill, plus the 200-million-dollar carryover allowed. But the senator said the Defense Department, by its "maneuver," kept 575 millions of past aid funds for future spending.

Meanwhile, a Senate-House conference committee reached agreement on a $3,285,000,000 aid authorization bill for the new fiscal year. The Senate and House are expected to act on it Thursday.

The total compares with $3,408,000,000 asked by Eisenhower.

The Conference Committee accepted the House figure of $1,133,000,000 for military aid, as compared to the $1,278,000,000 the President had asked and the Senate had voted.

History's Biggest Airlift Of Troops To Get Under Way

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—History's biggest troop airlift—the "swapping" of more than 7,000 army troops between the United States and Japan—gets under way here Thursday.

The 18th Air Force, performing the massive maneuver, calls it "The Airlift of the Angels and the Devils."

Huge C124 transports of the 18th will carry 3,900 paratroopers of the Army's 508th Regimental Combat Team from Ft. Campbell to Ashiya Air Base, Japan. The 508th calls itself "The Red Devils."

From Japan the same planes will fly more than 3,100 troopers of the 187th Regimental Combat Team to Ft. Bragg, N. C. The 187th is known as "The Angels from Hell."

This will be the Army's first airlift exchange of major combat units under "Operation Gyroscope," the continuing simultaneous exchange of large military groups.

"This will be the biggest troop airlift in military history," said the 18th AF in a news release.

Meeting May Begin Solving Sewer Problem

A Sanitary District Board of Trustees meeting Friday morning may result in the beginning of a solution to Lincoln's sewage problems.

Board Chairman Henry J. Amen called the special meeting at the request of George A. Knight, chairman of the sewer committee of the board.

The Sanitary Board will act on an apparent agreement reached by Knight and city officials in an earlier meeting.

A major problem is the fact the main sanitary sewer trunk line around the southwest edge of Lincoln is overloaded and some raw sewage is being dumped into Salt Creek.

Ike Backs Wenzel In Dixon-Yates Role

To Cancel Power Pact If Memphis Project Feasible

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday defended the part played by Adolphe H. Wenzel in development of the Dixon-Yates power contract—a contract the President now says he will cancel if it is feasible for Memphis to build its own generating plant.

Asked at his news conference whether he regarded Wenzel's role as proper, the President said: "Indeed, yes."

Some members of Congress have raised the roof because, they said, Wenzel served as consultant to the Budget Bureau on the Dixon-Yates plan when he was vice president of the First Boston Corp., and later that firm became fiscal agent for the private power syndicate.

Didn't Influence Negotiations
The White House has contended that Wenzel did not influence negotiations for the contract, which has been fought over bitterly in Congress for more than a year.

The controversy took a new turn Wednesday with a charge by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) that the Eisenhower administration has made "a shocking misuse of the FBI" by assigning FBI agents to check on plans of the city of Memphis to build a municipal power plant.

"Is there no limit to which this politically-minded administration will go in order to carry water for the private power interests?" Kefauver asked in a statement.

To Call Brownell

Senate investigators decided to call Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., for questioning on Kefauver's charge.

It now looks, though, as if Democrats have won their long battle against the plan to have the Dixon-Yates interests erect a 107-million-dollar power plant at West Memphis, Ark., and furnish electricity to the lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Eisenhower told his news conference he will cancel the Dixon-Yates contract if "the complete feasibility" of the Memphis municipal project is established. He estimated this might take two weeks.

Transmission Out, Auto Runs Wild

Mechanical difficulties caused a car to go out of control at the north end of the 10th Street viaduct Wednesday. Two Californians were injured when the car struck a parked car and a truck.

Injured were Edward Marks, 57, of Los Angeles, and his sister, Hattie Marks, 62, of Pasadena. Marks suffered abrasions and bruises and his sister received a foot fracture and bruises. Both were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The accident occurred at 10th and Oak, after the car's transmission dropped out. Marks told police he was unable to control the vehicle.

The truck driver was Earl Matthews, 37, of 6520 Garland. The car struck belonged to Herbert W. Meyer, 34, of Kansas City, Mo.

Four Happy Sisters

It was a happy reunion in Lincoln Wednesday for (left to right) Mrs. John Reinhardt of 404 F. Mrs. Pernal Rockerath of Utica, N.Y., Mrs. Melba Wright of 722 Washington and Mrs. Vera Jones of Utica. It was the first time Mrs. Wright had ever seen her sister, Mrs. Jones, and it had been 19 years since she had seen Mrs. Rockerath. (Star Staff Photo.)

Lincoln Woman And 2 Sisters Have A Happy Reunion Here

By BURT MANN
Star Staff Writer

Amid cries of "You look just like mother" and "I'm sure I would have known you anywhere," a Lincoln woman was reunited Wednesday with a sister she had never seen and another sister she hadn't seen for 19 years.

There were no tears — only smiles and happy laughter — when

Mrs. Melba Wright of 722 Washington greeted Mrs. Vera Jones, the sister she had never seen, and Mrs. Pernal Rockerath when they arrived at the home of another sister, Mrs. John Reinhardt, at 404 F.

Husbands, John Reinhardt, who operates a plumbing and heating firm in Lincoln and John Rockerath, who works for a sewing machine firm in Utica, N.Y., were shoved aside as the four happy sisters began renewing old acquaintances and family ties.

The Rockeraths and Mrs. Jones, who plan to stay in Lincoln four days before driving back to Utica, said they didn't have any specific plans for their stay here.

"We'll probably just sit and talk most of the time," they said, "and we certainly have a lot to talk about."

It has been a good number of years since the LaVine family of Utica began breaking up. Then, in 1924 when their mother died, some members of the family were adopted and moved to Nebraska.

Although, Mrs. Rockerath visited in Lincoln 19 years ago and met her sister, Mrs. Wright, this is the first time Mrs. Wright has been able to meet any other members of the Utica branch of the family.

Other members of the family still living in Utica, who Mrs. Wright hasn't seen, are her father, Joseph LaVine; a brother, Arnold, and two sisters, Mrs. Thelma Hughes and Mrs. Aletha Lanz.

Mrs. Reinhardt and her family spent part of their vacation in Utica a couple of years ago. They all hoped that the entire family will be able to get together sometime soon for a long awaited reunion.

Eisenhower's Timely Reply

President Eisenhower, as he spoke to the U.S. press Wednesday, gave proper and timely assurance to Soviet Russia that America does not expect to approach the forthcoming four-power conference leading from strength.

He asserted that the United States will negotiate in good faith for ultimate peace. He viewed the talks at the summit as a cause for hope that may lead to expectation. His remarks were in answer to Communist Chief Krushchev's denial that Russia will be negotiating from weakness.

The President's statement will do much to encourage a suitable environment for a serious parley which can erect an important milestone in the world's quest for international order and justice. If there are to be any negotiations from strength they should be on the strength of amity and the logic of disarmament.

One cannot expect full confidence between the East and the West after years of cold war and rivalry. But one can hope for a new basis of it at the summit. And certainly President Eisenhower in his quick and gracious reply to Krushchev aided substantially toward that end.

A Flood Becomes A Statistic

A week ago a cloudburst in the upper Nebraska panhandle made the banner lines of the newspapers, telling of the raging waters rushing down the North Platte River with the threat and the actual damage to communities and farm land in the area.

The flood quickly became a statistic. It was swallowed up by Lake McConaughy, the man-made reservoir near Ogallala which serves as the mother of electric power and irrigation, the latter for several hundred miles down the lush and productive Platte Valley. Indeed, the flood became a minor statistic. It was referred to at midweek as delivering 6,700 acre-feet of storage water in McConaughy—the equivalent of three days withdrawal from the reservoir prior to the flood—enough to irrigate about 3,500 acres in a normal season.

The event only dramatized a basic fact in flood control and water management. Reservoirs of sufficient size make short work of deluges and spare hundreds of miles of down-stream land from damage—a protection of real magnitude in itself. They convert untamed water into an asset, and supply other benefits to a productive society.

Nebraska, frequently plagued by dangerous and erosive flash floods, is heading toward total water control. It can move forward confident of its objective for it has sufficient examples now to prove its course.

Dumping Control

Frequently a problem for the city, the dump west of Lincoln could be a profitable thing for the City Council to investigate.

The cost of operating the dump is seldom noted.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

PALOS VERDES ESTATES, Calif. — Nebraskans well know that from Salt Lake City west until they pick up the prim irrigated fields of California, via Las Vegas, is a most depressing train ride. Mile after mile of eroded hardpan, from which the winds have picked up all loose particles of dirt, expanse after expanse of sagebrush and stunted pine, and occasional cactus complete with the glistening white sands of a desert country. It is cattle country—not the verdant, heavily grassed beauty of our Nebraska Sandhills — but a rather grim cattle country where survival exacts a high price.

Its people know this region like a book. And well they should. The day before four men surveying land for a new desert resort were caught in a sand storm. Two of them later were found dead by a rescue party which was directed to the spot by a plane flying over the area. Two others survived.

Amazingly few lose themselves in this vast stretch of sagebrush and sand, where temperatures at this time of 110 degrees and above are not uncommon, but that is because settlements are few and far between. Here and there can be seen a patch of black dirt, strangely out of place in all of the sand. Here and there is some primitive irrigation, not on the scale as we know it but nevertheless sufficient to coax the fields to greenness and ultimate production. This is the homeland of Secretary of Agriculture Benson. He started out here as a field man in the agricultural service. Home may have been one of those well-watered, green and smiling Utah valleys, or it may have been a bit of the discouraging region to which I have referred. But in any event it was not a part of the great American breadbasket which year after year has yielded millions of bushels of wheat, other small grains, and corn.

Nothing short of a miracle will return those stretches in western Utah and Nevada to grass as we know it. Mr. Benson may or may not be the product of that type of environment. If he is, it is easy to understand why the dependable assurances of the harvest do not mean so much to him as they seem to signify to farmers of other regions. Mr. Benson is not going to put real grass on a lot of country out this way.

One of the impressive developments in connection with the recent referendum on wheat allotments was the disposition on the part of advocates of either the flexible support program or those demanding 90 per cent of parity to go slow in commenting. There were claims of victory, of course. No one was putting out a lot, however. There was a timidity in all of the comment by those in official positions and particularly in Congress. Just before I boarded the train, a Nebraskan for whom I have a deep respect volunteered this surprising statement: "The people of the Midwest apparently have not awakened to it, but the two seaboard are putting the 'old squeeze' on us that we have known over such a long period of time." If that is the case, it will not take too many years to establish the fact. Meanwhile what type of experience best qualifies for farm leadership?

We have moved into the age of improved seed, improved preparation of the soil for planting, improved methods of cultivation, improved machinery all the way down the line. The age of plenty collides with the age of scarcity. Which will win and what will be the effect upon those directly concerned?

Not Dead Issue

Sen. Paul Douglas, supported by 16 other senators, presented the Senate recently with a resolution calling for the reclamation of federal possession of off-shore oil resources—a movement that would turn backward the action of the former Congress which made tideland gifts to several states.

Sen. Douglas explained that the time was hardly ripe for favorable action on his request. But it calls to mind that there is not absolute security in the tideland's gift and state and private developers of oil resources face an uneasy future. What Congress has given, Congress can take away, especially in the tidelands matter where the U.S. Supreme Court has already declared the nation's sovereign right.

U Nu Is Impressed By House Democracy

WASHINGTON, D.C. — One Washingtonian who impressed Prime Minister U Nu of Burma during his visit to Washington was William "Fishbait" Miller, doorkeeper of the House of Representatives and chief greeter of foreign notables on Capitol Hill.

After Miller had introduced U Nu to all House members waiting to shake his hand, without forgetting a single name, the Burmese official inquired dubiously:

"Do you mean to tell me that you know all the members of the House of Representatives?"

"Yes, sir," replied Miller.

"You must be a veteran around here," suggested the premier of Burma.

"Oh, no, I'm only a freshman," replied Miller. "I've only been here for 23 years. The man on your right is a veteran. He has been here for 60 years."

With a sweeping gesture, "Fishbait" presented Arthur E. "Gus" Cook, assistant architect of the capitol. U Nu shook hands commenting:

"Your Congress is, indeed, a Democratic body. I have been in the parliament in Burma for a long time, which numbers 250 members. I am prime minister, but I am personally acquainted with barely half of them."

MRS NIXON REMOVES HAT

Senators' wives are not allowed on the Senate floor, so Mrs. Richard Nixon sat in the Senate Gallery while her husband presided over the Senate when Prime Minister U Nu of Burma, whom she had met at the airport, was being presented to the Senate.

Later, however, Mrs. Nixon was admitted to the floor of the House of Representatives where her husband does not preside and where she obviously has less "in."

To get on the floor of the House, however, Mrs. Nixon had to do one thing — remove her hat. Ever since 1873, House rules have forbidden anyone, man or woman, to wear a hat on the floor while the House is in session.

So Mrs. Nixon relinquished her bonnet to a friend and was promptly admitted.

Gov. Knight is not only a great friend of local president Joe De Silva, but recognizes what this particular group has done for the health of labor families. Long before John L. Lewis put across the welfare fund for the United Mine Workers, De Silva had arranged with the Kaiser Foundation and its Permanente hospital in Los Angeles to give his members some complete health insurance that it's now called the Mayo Clinic of the workingman. . . The Navy has finally tabbed the guest house at the Navy's Cheatham Annex near Newport News, Va., as unauthorized. This is the guest house this column exposed last April for having wasted a lot of the taxpayers' money . . . It was at Cheatham Annex that civilian naval employees were used to dig oysters for the admirals — also at the taxpayers' expense . . . The order closing the guest house was signed June 20 by J. L. Don't Trust A Hiccup Out In Polite Society

There is a difference in hiccups. This is a phenomenon which has not, to my knowledge, been given its proper degree of attention in scientific circles. Science probably knows a great deal more about the atom than it does about the hiccup, despite the fact that the hiccup undoubtedly furnished the first chain reaction in mankind's experience. Insofar as I have been able to discover, hiccups have not even been classified as to sub-species.

The thing that brings the subject to mind is, naturally enough, a spell of hiccupping. The hiccups which beset me at the moment are not like any others I have ever had, and I have had most kinds at one time or another. Enough, at any rate, to feel qualified to establish a layman's list of the commoner forms hiccupping takes.

The most common form of hiccup, of course, is that which appears in an isolated series lasting from five minutes to half an hour, and might be called the conversational hiccup. This is because each individual eruption times itself to appear in the exact middle of a word during any conversational effort the sufferer might undertake.

It is difficult to write down an approximation of this form of the hiccup unless you do it while it is, which is not entirely satisfactory.

Another hiccup form which I have observed widely is the alcoholic one. There is grave doubt, however, that this is a true hiccup. Some authorities regard it more as a series of cosmic footsteps echoing ahead of a hangerover.

Most true hiccups can be cured by sipping water, standing on your head, descending 513 feet into a diving tank or being chased by a rogue elephant. If the seizure is too severe to be cured by the latter means, you might as well let the elephant catch you. If a rogue elephant is not readily available, the same purpose can be achieved by walking out into the middle of any downtown intersection when the lights are against you.

The new kind of hiccups I have just discovered might be called, for lack of a better name, the fair-weather-friend hiccups. They are the most treacherous in my long hiccupping experience. They apparently stop at the mere approach of a sip of water, and lie dormant for as much as half an hour, leading you to believe they have been conquered.

Then, the minute company comes, the boss invites you into his office, a pretty girl asks directions or you get the number you have just dialed on the telephone, here they come, tripping back up your glottis like mad.

When a person has ordinary hiccups, everybody knows it and sympathizes, but when anyone has the kind that hides out, and goes into action only when the element of surprise will be greatest, there is no defense. Unless it is to go fishing, where solitude gives the hiccups no temptation.

And that, friends, seems like a good idea at the moment.

Red News Agency Shakes Up Staff

WASHINGTON — Tass, the Soviet Union news agency, has withdrawn the press credentials of an American woman correspondent, Mrs. Jean Montgomery, who has represented it here since about 1935.

U.S. officials are guessing that Mrs. Montgomery has been sacrificed to the Kremlin's new sweetness and light policy. Many people resented the fact that an American was reporting to the official Communist press service and members of Congress especially have freely shown their irritation.

The White House, the State Department and the congressional press galleries have received a formal request to take Mrs. Montgomery from their lists of accredited correspondents. It was signed by Georgi N. Bolshukov, chief of bureau.

The letter said that Tass would continue to be represented by Mr. Bolshukov and Vladimir B. Paramonov. Both are Russians and relative newcomers. Mr. Bolshukov has been here about a year and Mr. Paramonov was transferred from the New York office of Tass a month ago.

Chief of Bureau Bolshukov, a suave and smiling figure who is noticeably alert to what goes on around him, is most often seen at the State Department. There he is a useful source of the current Communist line which he seems to know or at least tells before the Soviet embassy puts it out.

He is presently in San Francisco where he went to cover the United Nations birthday celebration. Mr. Paramonov explains he is here as a substitute. He was formerly, he said, a member of the journalism faculty of the University of Moscow.

It is Mrs. Montgomery who is the familiar figure, a regular attendant for many years at the press conferences of the President and secretary of state and always present in the capitol and at important hearings. In the Senate press gallery she had a private telephone booth with a connection to the Tass office in the national press building and her own desk. Her most immediate neighbor, it was noted with relish, was the Wall Street Journal which of course had similar privileges as do other major newspapers.

She was in the Senate gallery last Friday, apparently in her usual good spirits, and gave no sign that she expected to be leaving. She has a home in northeast Washington but nobody seemed to be there to answer the phone during the day on Tuesday.

An official Tass spokesman admitted Mrs. Montgomery's long tenure had been ended but said it was only a "general reduction of staff." He said no differences of opinion were involved and that Tass would always appreciate the work she had done.

A Ruffian Learns His Manners

Leaping over a four-foot-high board in 90-degree weather at the command of a trainer is a big change for a boxer who was once so unruly he couldn't be handled.

King, an 85-pound muscular canine, will roll over, heel, play dead and even stay at his trainer's side while a rabbit runs close to him.

The big dog was just a three-month-old pup when Miss Francis Anderson of 3301 M first brought him home. But he grew until he got to be too much dog. She simply could not pit her strength against that of King to lead him around.

Her neighbor, T. E. Gardner of 3301 N., saw the fast-growing boxer and offered to train him. The now demure dog once tried to jump Gardner when he first took King out for a lesson in manners.

It took patience and understanding to train the beautiful, husky dog. Now the boxer is a pleasant companion to Miss Anderson's 80-year-old mother.

And the trainer, T. E. Gardner, is a good companion to King. The dog likes to go over to the Gardner's home and ask to come inside. If it is a hot day, the dog is told to go to the basement, where he settles down on the cool floor.

Once in a while, though, King gets a foothold in the living-room.

The dog responded so well to commands that he was entered in, a confirmation and obedience training show last fall and won several ribbons.

The canine will let himself be heard in three different voices. At the command "small bark," he will let out a small bark. Then the command "louder bark," is given and out comes a louder bark.

"Big bark, King" brings out a shattering bark that would wake a sleeping baby.

Gardner has taught the dog to use the small bark for normal speaking and King despite his gruff exterior has as small a bark as a Chihuahua, only in the basso.

Some Bills Make It, Some Don't

WASHINGTON — As soon as President Eisenhower affixes the proper signature to House Resolution 619 all the paper money printed henceforth will say, in God we trust.

Then, if Sen. Francis Case, (R-SD) has his way, every $1 bill will bear the portraits of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Theodore Roosevelt and Abraham Lincoln, as sculpted by Gutzon Borglum on the side of a South Dakota cliff.

In the 7147th bill introduced in the House since January, Rep. Dante B. Fascell (D-Fla.) would cut the tax on beer produced by small breweries. Then they could cut prices and maybe compete better with a big-time producers of lager.

The Senate, meantime, has passed and sent to the House a resolution calling for the government to help resurvey the Mason-Dixon line between Delaware and Maryland, where it runs mostly north and south.

What I mean by these examples of business before the law is that they're talking now of closing shop, turning off the air coolers and going home four weeks from today. If they do, they'll leave several thousand would-be laws for grinding into wastepaper.

Such a lost cause probably would be House Bill 7155, by Rep. Abraham J. Multer (D-NY) to take the stripes off blank tax returns. You remember those. When the Internal Revenue Service mailed the blanks to poor folks,

The Paying Public

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The time has come for organized labor to do some serious thinking. Time, too, for our capitalistic gentlemen to face the music and stop the game that is going on — a game of boosting wages and then throwing the cost of the boost back upon the backs of the ultimate consumer.

The recent threatened steel strike is an example. The threatened strike was not against the steel trust. It was against the ultimate buyer of the products fashioned from steel. The steel magnates granted an increased wage and then turned around and added $7.50 to the steel cost price. The users of steel will pay that extra cost and tack it on the selling price of the product carrying the steel.

This thing of men knowingly saddling additional cost price upon the average American consumer, who himself get no such wage return, will end up in a revolt. The consumers will go on a strike and wages will come down.

Of course, Congress touched the whole thing off in hiking the salaries of its membership over $10,000 annually. Since that day every office holder in the land is holding that he is indispensable and should have more money. And who is paying for all this fiddling? The average American consumer and taxpayer.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

Mrs. Duncan Placed On 5 Years Probation On Abortion Attempt Charge

Mrs. Cary Giffen Duncan, 33, of 3228 Vine was placed on probation for five years Wednesday in Lancaster District Court on an abortion attempt charge filed last September following the death of a Council Bluffs, Ia., woman.

Mrs. Duncan had pleaded no contest last Dec. 31 in District Court, to the charge that she administered on Sept. 10 a "substance or thing" to Marion Van-ness, 32, a pregnant woman, "with intent to procure a miscarriage."

Mrs. Vanness died Sept. 26 at a Council Bluffs hospital. An autopsy report stated death "was caused by a tetanus infection with portal in the vaginal tract."

An investigation by Council Bluffs authorities indicated that at least four abortion attempts had been made by Mrs. Vanness.

An Omaha, Paul P. Fienhage, 59, was charged in Council Bluffs with administering a drug on Sept. 4 to Mrs. Vanness with attempt to produce an abortion.

In requesting leniency for Mrs. Duncan, her attorney, Tom Adams said she "has been a good citizen all her life and had been in no previous trouble."

Adams told the court that Mrs. Duncan, sometimes known as Dr. Duncan, was graduated from a medical school and had practiced in Lincoln, sometimes as a nurse.

Adams also told the court that "the woman (Mrs. Vanness) had been taking pills and hypos and was infected before coming to Mrs. Duncan."

Adams quoted Mrs. Duncan as saying the woman was "in bad shape and the only thing she (Mrs. Duncan) could do was treat her and recommend she go to see a doctor."

Adams stated that Mrs. Duncan "has allowed her license to elapse and operates only as a nurse." Mrs. Duncan said she had practiced as a nurse for 12 years before attending medical school.

No state license was disclosed for Mrs. Duncan in a search of the records back to 1910, the court noted.

Noting that Mrs. Duncan was charged with a "serious offense," Judge Harry Spencer said probation was considered because of the defendant's age, physical condition, and no previous criminal history.

"But the probation should be long enough to safeguard society," Judge Spencer said. In placing Mrs. Duncan on probation with Adult Probation Officer George

Meyer, Judge Spencer made it a probation condition that the defendant "refrain from practicing medicine in any form."

Earlier, Adams thanked the court for tolerance in sentence proceedings which had been delayed because of the defendant's ill health and because of his duties in the Legislature.

Mrs. Duncan appeared in court with a cane because of a hip injury and was supported during the sentencing proceedings by a friend.

Bill Includes Local Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—House and Senate versions of appropriations for the nation's waterways program 45½ million dollars apart, headed Wednesday for a joint conference committee which will compromise the difference.

The Senate was that much more generous than the House when it voted Wednesday for a $365,763,000 Army Engineer outlay for dam-building, flood control and navigation in the fiscal year that started last Friday.

At stake in the House-Senate conference will be money for 45 projects added by the Senate to the House bill and increases over House allowances for nine others.

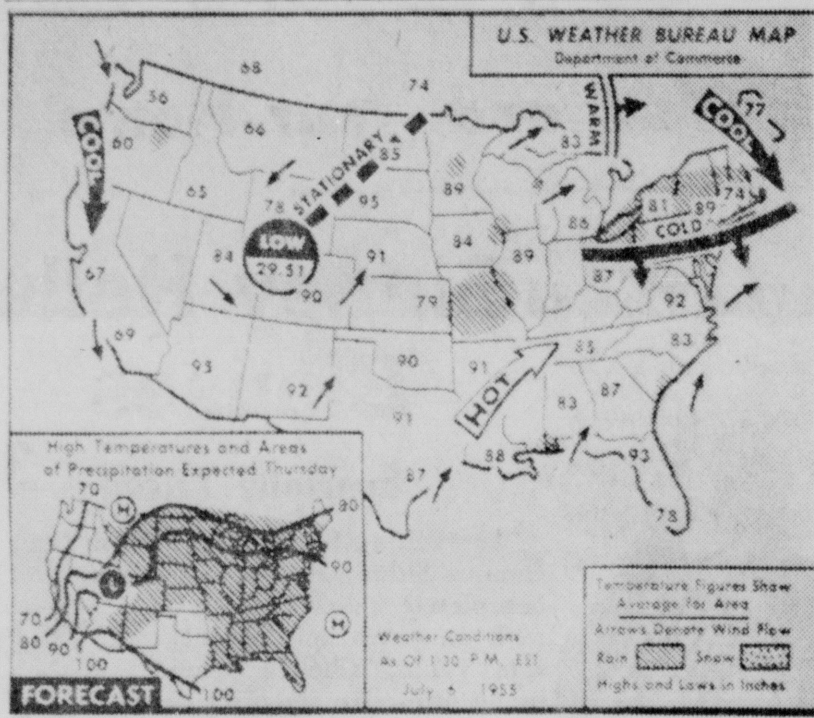

As approved by the Senate, the bill was $46,788,000 higher than asked by President Eisenhower and $122,398,900 greater than last year's appropriations for the program.

Among projects voted by the Senate were Missouri River, Kansas City to Omaha, $4,000,000; Missouri River, Omaha to Sioux City, Ia., $3,800,000; Missouri River, Kensler's Bend, Neb., to Sioux City, $600,000; Little Sioux River, Ia., $300,000, and Missouri River agricultural levees in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, $700,000.

Also approved by the Senate was $25,000 for planning of local flood protection works at Norfolk, Neb., and $13,950,000 for Gavins Point Reservoir on the Missouri River between Nebraska and South Dakota.

The Senate allotted $5,869,000 to the Fort Randall Reservoir and $25,000,000 to the Oahe Reservoir and the Missouri River in South Dakota.

Warm Weather, Fair Skies
Continued warm weather with scattered showers and thunderstorms will prevail over most of the country Thursday. There will be fair skies in the far western states and in most of the central and southern plains. It will turn warmer in the northwest Pacific region and in southern California. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Farm Price Index Rises

Nebraska farmers had an encouraging word from the Agricultural Statistics Division Wednesday.

The farm price index rose 10 points during the month ending June 15.

The index was 261, comparing with 251 at mid-May and 267 a year ago.

The figure is based on percentage points of the 1909-14 average. A strong increase in meat animal prices and a small advance in the price of corn and oats were credited for the recent improvement.

The livestock and livestock products index rose 16 points during the period.

OMAHA (AP)—Central Criminal Court hearing for health lecturer Adolphus Hohensee, Scranton, Pa., was continued Wednesday for one week at the request of his attorneys.

Hohensee was arrested June 28 after a lecture at a downtown hotel.

City Prosecutor Charles Fryzek said Hohensee would be charged with soliciting contributions without a permit. The complaint has not been filed.

Hohensee is free on $500 bond. Fryzek said Donald Smith, 41, Houston, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Gladwin Lamb, both 38, Wichita, Kan., described as associates of Hohensee, will face the same charge.

IKE COOKS GIFT STEAKS

OMAHA (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks has informed the Omaha Chamber of Commerce that Omaha steaks are "just wonderful" and President Eisenhower knows how to cook them.

The chamber recently sent Weeks steaks that were served high government officials at his farm in New Hampshire. Wrote the cabinet member:

"You might be interested to know the President himself cooked the steaks over an outdoor grill and they were a tremendous success with every one."

Solution Still Sought In Boxcar Shortage

No solution is yet in sight for the boxcar shortage which plagues Nebraska farmers otherwise overjoyed with an unexpected bumper wheat crop.

Preston Bailey, state superintendent of warehousing, said his office has received a number of phone calls from farmers asking what can be done about the lack of railroad cars.

Bailey, whose office is "swamped" with the work of issuing warehouse licenses which expired on June 30, has made a report on the boxcar situation to the Railway Commission.

The commission probably will take action on the report Thursday, Commissioner Paul Pettygrove said.

Commissioner Richard Larson will return Thursday morning from attending a hearing in Denver, third member of the group, Joe Brown, has been out of the office because of illness.

A main reason for the boxcar shortage is that recent rains

Wheat Harvest 'Remarkable'

A 75-bushel wheat harvest reported by a Lancaster County farmer tops production which has been termed "remarkable" throughout southeast Nebraska.

Wheat yielding more than 70 bushels an acre is almost unheard of in this area, according to the Agricultural Statistics Division.

But Marvin Schroeder realized 600 bushels from eight acres of wheat on land he farms four miles southeast of Walton.

brought much of the wheat to fields far greater than expected earlier, when rainfall was below normal.

Around Holdrege in Phelps County, for example, yields double those expected two months ago are being reported.

Nearly all wheat coming into Holdrege elevators is weighing 60 pounds or more, with yields running between 25 and 40 bushels.

All three Beatrice elevators are full and about 30 railroad cars would be needed to handle their grain.

An elevator at Hansen, near Hastings, had to pile about 25,000 bushels of wheat on the ground.

But in the Hastings area the harvest peak probably has been reached. South of Hastings the harvesting is about two-thirds completed.

At Trumbull, an elevator operator said slacking of the harvest at the end of this week probably will end the storage problem there.

Quite a bit of wheat was dumped on the ground at Pickrell, but no dumping has been reported in the Beatrice area.

Many farmers throughout the state are storing their wheat in trucks and bins.

Yields in southwest Nebraska varied from 3 bushels an acre in fields hit by hail to about 45 bushels an acre.

Exceptional quality grain yielding 25 to 40 bushels to the acre has been reported from Funk, Axtell, Bertrand and Atlanta. Some wheat weighed 62 and 63 pounds.

A load testing 65 pounds was the heaviest received at the Loomis elevator in 37 years.

Some grain has been shipped for Blue Springs, Cortland and Wyoming, but many more cars than available could be used.

McKenna Leaves For 'White House'

OMAHA (AP)—Hugh McKenna, 33, the new president of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be the first to occupy the national Jaycee's "Little White House," in Tulsa, Okla.

The new residence for Jaycee presidents is 95 per cent complete. The $65,000 home was built mainly by cash and materials contributions from Jaycee chapters.

McKenna Wednesday began a year's leave of absence from his job as an administrative assistant from an Omaha insurance company. His wife and two children will join him in Tulsa.

Toll House Goes As Bridge Free

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb. — The Nebraska City Bridge toll house, no longer needed, is being torn down.

The stucco building was torn down by the city street department. A chain attached to a truck was hooked to the building and it collapsed.

Nearly a million and a half dollars in tolls has been handled in the little structure in the 25 years tolls were collected on the bridge. The bridge became free at midnight last Thursday.

Supervisors Meeting Held At Med School

Lincoln Star Special

OMAHA — The University of Nebraska College of Medicine's first annual supervisors' conference took place Wednesday on the Omaha campus.

Panel and group discussions, films and short talks were held in the Psychiatric Institute Building.

The conference was sponsored by the Department of Short Courses and Institutes of the University Extension Division, in cooperation with the personnel department of the College of Medicine.

Its purpose was to give further training to supervisors in how to understand and deal with their employees and to provide an opportunity for discussion of mutual problems and modern supervisory practices.

Featured speakers included Russell Anderson of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.; Richard M. Bourne, Carl Donaldson and Clarence Molzer, all of the University of Nebraska in Lincoln; and Wilfred Payne of the University of Omaha, as well as Dean J. P. Tollman, Dr. James Benjamin, Dr. A. L. Bennett, Irma Kyle and Herschel Nuss of the College of Medicine; and Mrs. Avis Scholder and Delbert Mesner of the Psychiatric Institute.

GI Petitions Ask Election

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Petitions bearing 1,800 signatures were filed Wednesday asking the City Council to call a special election for voters to decide on continuance of the city manager form of government.

The petitions, filed by the Grand Island Citizens Committee headed by Wayne Hedglin, also asked a vote on amending the city charter to bring the paving tax interest in line with existing state laws.

City Clerk Floyd White said it might take a week to check the signatures. A total of 500 is needed.

It is the second attack on the city manager form of government by means of an election. Grand Island has had the city manager form since 1949.

Hedglin said "workers for the committee from most all sections of Grand Island found the signatures surprisingly easy to obtain." He claimed the citizens were "cost conscious."

Irrigation Water Flow At Capacity

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP)—Irrigation water is flowing in the Holdrege area at capacity, the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation officer here said Wednesday.

Diversion into the Phelps County canal was pushing past the 350 cubic feet per second mark and diversion in the E. 65 canal was up to 304 cubic feet.

Arnold Lepik, Central Nebraska engineer here, said that despite the drag on supplies Lake McConeughy had risen to 1,187,400 acre feet, a high for this season. The Johnson Reservoir listed 43,935 acre feet in storage.

James Church Dies At Milford

Weaver Seeks U.S. Academy Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Phil Weaver said Wednesday he had received notification of one vacancy at the U. S. Naval Academy and authorization to nominate 10 candidates to the Air Force Academy for 1956.

He said he would nominate one principal candidate for the Naval Academy and five alternates.

Selection of candidates, he said, would depend upon results of Civil Service examinations to be held at main post offices in Lincoln, Beatrice, Falls City, Hastings and McCook at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

Weaver asked that those interested contact him by Friday in order to be designated eligible for examination. Nominees must be unmarried and residents of the First Congressional District.

Gering Oregon Trail Days To Honor Valley Settlers

Lincoln Star Special

GERING, Neb. — Early settlers in the North Platte Valley will be honored visitors at Gering's 34th annual Oregon Trail Days July 14 and 15.

Gov. Victor Anderson is to speak at the Old Settlers headquarters July 15, and Sen. Roman Hruska is to be principal speaker at the Half Century Club meeting July 14.

Big events of the celebration will include a tribal dance by Sioux Indians in full costume, a parade on Friday, museum displays and a children's parade and pet show.

Free vaudeville acts, square dancing, band concerts, a barbecue and sports will round out the two day program.

Persons who arrived in Western Nebraska or eastern Wyoming prior to 1915 are eligible to register as early homesteaders. The Old Settlers Reunion will continue both days. Memorial services for settlers who have died within the past year will be conducted by the Half Century Club.

A parade of Gering businessmen and the Gering High School band will tour the North Platte Valley area this Friday to advertise the celebration.

Louis W. Decker is general chairman.

Swimming Pool Fund Approved

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. (AP)—Voters have approved transfer of $30,000 from the city electric fund to the park fund for construction of a swimming pool.

The vote was 581 in favor of the proposal and 144 against it.

Two years ago voters approved a $35,000 bond issue for construction of the pool, but when bids were received the $35,000 was not enough.

Last May 31, bids were opened again and it was found that about $60,000 would cover construction. Town fathers then agreed to put the fund transfer proposition to the voters.

Plan July Wedding

Announcement is being made this morning of the betrothal and approaching marriage of Miss Donna Medved to Robert Kidder, son of Mrs. Helen Kidder, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Medved.

Miss Medved and her fiancé are pictured above as they discuss plans for their wedding which will be an event of Saturday, July 30. The ceremony will take place at St. Teresa's Church, and will be solemnized at 11 o'clock in the morning.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, the bride-to-be is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Mr. Kidder is attending the University of Nebraska and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Holds Program

The literature and travel groups of the Lincoln branch, AAUW, met for a 6 o'clock tray dinner and program Wednesday evening at the YWCA. A travel program illustrated with pictures, "Journey to the Far East," was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jiles Haney.

BUSY WEEK END

ANOTHER busy week end is peering over the horizon — and as we check the calendar for the Thursday to Monday period, we discover that the activity involves a variety of events.

UNDERSTAND that John F. Upson is here visiting with his aunt, Miss Kate Field, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Field. Mr. Upson will remain in Lincoln until the last week in July when he will return to New York City.

THEN we just got word that Dr. and Mrs. Lee D. Gartner and their young daughter, Deborah Jean, of Durham, N.C., and Mrs. Gartner's mother, Mrs. D. Alvin Kime of Devon, Pa., arrived last week end for a visit with Dr. Gartner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Gartner.

Dr. Lee Gartner has recently completed his residency in surgery at Duke University.

NEWS of our popular bride-elect, Miss Cynthia Johnson, who will marry Keith Britton of Sioux City, Ia., on Wednesday, Aug. 24, tells us that on Friday, she will be honored at a bridal luncheon in Nebraska City. Hostess for the luncheon will be Miss Nitz Resse.

THEN, Miss Johnson will entertain at a pre-nuptial courtesy for our September bride-elect, Miss Nancy Chamberlin, who will become the bride of William Weir on Saturday, Sept. 3. Miss Johnson will be hostess at a dessert supper at her home on Tuesday evening.

SOMEONE told us that Dr. R. J. Pool has accepted an invitation to serve as visiting professor of botany at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill., for the coming school year. Dr. and Mrs. Pool will be leaving for Carbondale about Sept. 15.

JUST found out that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Du Teau of Kansas City, Mo., were the guests last week end of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenlof. Mr. and Mrs. DuTeau returned to their home Sunday evening.

UNDERSTAND that Miss Shirley Jo Coy of Waterloo, will be spending the next two months touring Europe with five of her friends, Miss Coy, who sailed on the SS United States last week is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

OVERNIGHT guests in Lincoln on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Weavering of Kansas City, Mo., who were the house-guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robinson. The Weaverlings left early Wednesday morning to continue their trip to Jasper Park Lodge in the Canadian Rockies.

MISS MARCIA ANN GEBHARDT

Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Gebhardt of Scotia are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marcia Ann, to Charles F. Kuncel, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kuncel of Omaha.

The bride-elect has attended the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, and currently is employed in Lincoln.

A June graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, Mr. Kuncel is associated with the Illinois Power Company, Sparta, Ill.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Marriage Solemnized

MRS. DONALD WOLFE

Miss Corinne Martha Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Fisher of Sutton, became the bride of Cpl. Donald Vit Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vit Wolfe of Clay Center, at a morning ceremony solemnized on Saturday, June 18, at Sutton. The lines of the double ring service were read by the Rev. John F. Hennessy, and Miss Margaret Ann Sheridan, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Gail Ham, the vocal soloist.

The maid of honor was Miss Charlene Fisher, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Fisher, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Marlys Ackermann. The attendants were frocked identically in petal pink crystal over taffeta and wore head bandeaux of the crystal, briefly veiled with tulle and ornamented with clusters of tiny pink flowers. They carried nosegays of pink carnations and rosebuds. Miss Marie Lipovsky was the flower girl, and the rings were carried by Wayne Johnson.

Jerry Wolfe served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Raymond Wolfe, also a brother of the bridegroom, James McKinney, Marlin Wolfe and William Hayes.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace over taffeta. A minute band of tulle edged the portrait neckline of the lace basque, which was dotted with iridescent paillettes, and the sleeves were long and fitted. The full tulle skirt ended in a train, and her veil of illusion was held by a tiara of lace and tulle trimmed with pearls. She carried a prayer book marked with a cluster of red rosebuds.

Cpl. Wolfe, a former student at the University of Nebraska, is stationed with the Army at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Former Coed Is Summer Bride

The chancel of the Elmwood Methodist Church was lighted by white cathedral candles and appointed with pedestal arrangements of white gladioli and greenery for the marriage of Miss Beth Janet Mendenhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Mendenhall of Elmwood, to Dale C. Maschmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Maschmann of Deshler, on Sunday evening, June 19. Dr. Bert L. Story read the lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony, preceding which Joseph Chapman sang, accompanied by Mrs. Dwight Clements, organist, who also played the wedding music.

The attendants, who wore alike frocks of leaf green nylon sheer patterned in the lily-of-the-valley motif, were Miss Marilyn Mendenhall, as her sister's maid of honor; Mrs. Merlin Peterson of Syracuse and Mrs. Fred Wright, Lincoln, the bridesmaids; and Miss Susan Maschmann, Deshler, the junior bridesmaid. Beneath snug bodices, the very full skirts flared into waltz length, and the ensembles were completed by rounded bouquets of green-tinted daisies and ivy. Miss Mary Hoffmeyer of Deshler was the flower girl, and lighting the candles were Miss Edith Williams and Mrs. Richard Smith, both of Lincoln.

Clarence Graffelman of Deshler served Mr. Maschmann as best man, and seating the guests were Richard Ludwig, Deshler; James Maschmann, Hebron; Lyle Dankleff of Unadilla; and Robert Dankleff, Elmwood.

White imported lace smoothed over satin and nylon tulle fashioned the bride's colonial gown. The décolletage of the Empire bodice of lace was softened with folds of the tulle, and the tiny sleeves were completed by long mitts of the lace over satin. Four deep tiers of ruffled tulle formed the wide skirt, which ended in a whisper train, and a circlet of tulle trimmed with pearls held her veil of illusion. She carried a crescent of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mr. Maschmann and his bride, a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University, will reside at Deshler following a trip to the Black Hills.

The wives of the Lincoln Air Force Base 371st bomb squadron officers will meet Friday morning at Cotner Terrace. The morning hours will be spent informally following the 10 o'clock coffee.

Entertain Visitors

Visiting in Lincoln are Lt. and Mrs. Douglas Inness, recently of Alexandria, Va., who are spending several days in town as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Springman.

The guests will leave Thursday to visit Mrs. Inness' parents at Broken Bow, from where Lt. Inness will depart this week end for Heidelberg, Germany, to serve with the Army. Mrs. Inness, the former Betty Thurman and a Kappa Delta at the University of Nebraska, will join her husband overseas later this summer.

Comparing notes on the best way to photograph the valley of the Rhine are (from the left) Mrs. Springman, Mr. Springman, Lt. Inness and Mrs. Inness. The lieutenant is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Pi Kappa Phi.

DIETING?

Delicious Laxative Cereal
May Help You Keep Regular!

If you are dieting and are irregular, due to lack of bulk in what you eat, Uncle Sam Laxative Breakfast Food may help you. This delicious, ready-to-eat cereal, with gentle, harmless natural laxative action, contains only 117 calories per average serving. A blend of toasted whole wheat flakes and toasted whole flaxseed gives Uncle Sam its delightful whole grain flavor.

For years, doctors have recognized that whole flaxseed tends to stimulate peristaltic action of the intestines (bowel action). Flaxseed serves as a lubricant, and whole wheat flakes add important bulk as well as rich vitamins and minerals. Eat Uncle Sam regularly to get the full benefit of its gentle, natural laxative action.

Get a package of Uncle Sam Laxative Cereal at your grocer's today. You'll find that Uncle Sam is a tasty breakfast food that may give you welcome aid. If you are not completely satisfied, just return top of package and we'll gladly refund double your purchase price.

$19 Million Wheat Sale To Red Poland Touches Off Canadian Controversy

Shipment Said To Be At Cost Of Taxpayers

OTTAWA (AP)—A deal for sale of 19 million dollars worth of Canadian wheat to Poland, partly financed by a government-guaranteed bank loan, has plunged Canada's Parliament into bitter controversy.

The opposition Progressive Conservatives, trying to block the deal, charge Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and Trade Minister C. D. Howe misled the House of Commons in stating the deal is incomplete, while the grain dealer who negotiated it says it was finished two weeks ago.

Progressive Conservative leader George Drew contends the transaction—Canada's largest with any Iron Curtain country since World War II and its first sale of wheat to any of them—will prove to be at the cost of Canadian taxpayers.

Only 15 per cent of the price is to be paid in cash, the remainder being provided by a Canadian bank loan with repayment guaranteed by the government.

'Friendly' "If gifts or quasi gifts are to be made," Drew said, "let them be made to friendly countries."

St. Laurent, leader of the dominant Liberals, said he does not think the sale has been completed.

"I am not going to allow unchallenged the imputation that I did not inform the House fully and frankly or that I attempted to mislead the House," he said.

The Prime Minister said the sale is not by the government and that it will not be completed until insurance on the loan is made to the government Export Credit Insurance Corporation and a premium paid.

Optimistic The government, he continued, may be mistaken in trusting Poland to pay the entire purchase price within a year, but he does not think so. An outbreak of war might prevent payment, but the government is optimistic enough to think Canada can sell products abroad in expectation there will be no war within a year, he said.

Canada, like the United States, has a big surplus of wheat. Charles Swartz, president of Northern Sales, Ltd., Winnipeg grain dealers, said he completed negotiations for sale of 9,250,000 bushels of wheat with a Polish government official in Ottawa two weeks ago. He said his firm's representative now is in Poland completing shipping arrangements. The deal would be in line with current world prices, somewhat more than $2 a bushel.

Swartz credited Trade Minister Howe for the transaction, saying, "he gave it a lot of thought—so far as we are concerned it is a straight business deal."

Out Of Order This announcement by Swartz came after Drew, seeking emergency debate on the sale to Poland, had been ruled out of order on the ground that it still is pending.

Drew, supported by Socialist leader M. J. Coldwell—who favors the sale to Poland—charged that both St. Laurent and Howe had misled the House.

Swartz said the first shipment of wheat to Poland, 1,900,000 bushels sold for four million dollars, is to move in September from both Atlantic and Pacific ports and further shipments are to continue over a period of nine months.

St. Laurent told the House the government insurance corporation has not been asked to underwrite payment of this lot.

Nebraska Man's Body Recovered

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N.C. (AP)—The body of Gordon Henkel, 45-year-old Spencer, Neb., man was recovered from the waters of Moore's Inlet Wednesday.

The body was found near the spot where Henkel and his 11-year-old daughter, Catherine, drowned June 27.

Police Chief M. E. Williamson said a shrimp boat operator discovered the remains.

The girl's body was found soon after the tragedy.

Gogan Picked As Jefferson Agent

Lincoln Star Special

FAIRBURY, Neb. — Richard Gogan, 29, a native of Arcadia, was named Jefferson County Agent Wednesday by the County Extension Board. He will relieve Richard Owens, the county's first agent. Owens resigned recently to accept a position as director of the St. Joseph Marketing Foundation at St. Joseph, Mo.

Gogan is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture where he majored in agronomy and soil conservation. After teaching vocational agriculture at Sterling and Rising City schools from 1950 until 1954, he farmed with his brother near Arcadia. In March of 1955, he was appointed assistant county agent for Hall County at Grand Island. He will assume his duties in Jefferson County either July 15 or August 1, when he is released by Hall County.

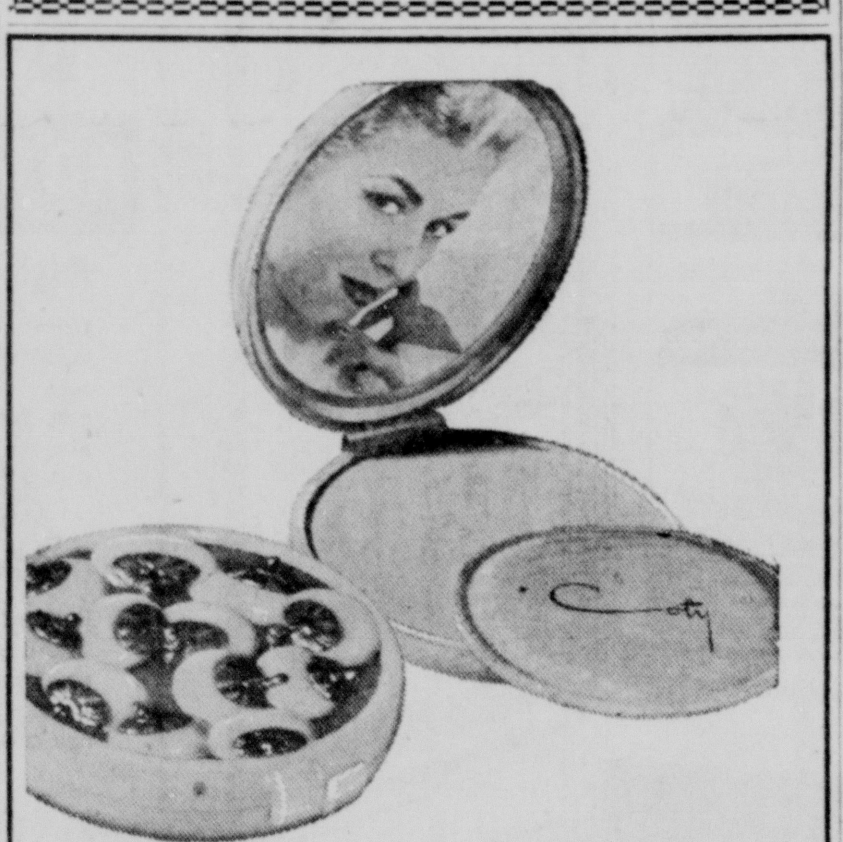

No 'Heat'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Verner Paulsen is one man who refuses merely to talk about the weather. He's done something about it.

Paulsen, program director for radio station WIP, instructed all disc jockeys on his station to refrain during the current heat wave from playing any record that has the word "heat" in the lyrics.

Walla Walla Pen Officials Accept, With Some Reservation, Convicts Demands

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (UP)—The nine point agreement signed with revolting inmates at the Washington State Prison Wednesday contained these demands, accepted with some reservation by prison officials:

1. No reprisals for any action taken by the prisoners during the revolt.
2. Men now assigned to segregation and isolation must be transferred to other cells and wings immediately and their slates wiped clean.

3. An inmate council, formed of men elected by the inmates and not subject to removal by officials, must be formed immediately.
4. Periodic inspection of mail by post office inspectors to insure that inmate mail is not held up unduly.

5. Prompt acknowledgement of requests by convicts for interviews with prison officials.
6. A complete study of the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles. This included a demand that the prison's Classification and Parole Department be reorganized in order to assure that in the future men will not be retained beyond their release date because of official incompetence or negligence.
7. Removal of Charles Simmons, head of the Classification Department, pending an investigation of his work.

- Grievances
8. Services of an attorney to advise prisoners of various matters and demands.
9. A group of minor grievances requesting a modern law library; regular privileges, including recreation, reading material and radios for men in segregation, and a review of a law making some crimes ineligible for consideration under parole regulations.

Dr. Thomas Harris, state director of institutions, agreed to do what he could to see that no one would be punished for the revolt although state law makes rioting or holding hostages a felony.

He agreed to transfer men from the segregation cells but did not comment on wiping slates clean. He said he felt the inmate council was a good idea and that an investigation of the mail delays would be made.

It was agreed to meet demands on interviews promptly and Simmons will be transferred to another institution or suspended pending an investigation of his work.

Dr. Harris pointed out he could not grant a request for a study of the parole board but would ask Gov. Arthur B. Langlie that it be done. He also said the state attorney general would be asked to send an attorney to the prison regularly to consult with the inmates.

Demands for a review of the parole law could not be met as that is a legislative matter upon which Dr. Harris could only ask for action.

Resident Of York Files Bankruptcy

In a Federal Court voluntary bankruptcy schedule, Francis John Dondlinger of Rt. 1, York, lists liabilities of $14,330.02 and assets of $1,569.19, of which $701.17 is claimed exempt.

JEWISH COUPLE DEFIES LAW; CLINGS TO ADOPTED CHILD WHOSE MOTHER IS CATHOLIC

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Counsel for a Jewish couple ordered arrested for failure to give up their 4-year-old adopted daughter as ordered by a court, because the child had a Roman Catholic mother, Wednesday charged the couple's rights were ignored.

The lawyer for Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis—now in seclusion with the child, Hildy McCoy, whom they have cared for since she was 10 days old—went before Massachusetts' State Supreme Court.

Denied Hearing

He argued that the couple should have been given a hearing before capias for their arrest on charges of contempt of the Norfolk County Probate Court were issued.

Hildy's mother, a Catholic, brought action to void the adoption. She said she did not know four years ago that the child was going into a non-Catholic home. The Ellises engaged in a prolonged court struggle to retain custody of the little girl and offered to bring her up as a Catholic.

But the court made its decision that Hildy must be surrendered to her natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty, under a state law that a child must be given for adoption, where practicable, to a couple of the same religious faith.

The Ellises were to have turned Hildy over last week but went into seclusion with the child over the weekend, Tuesday.

M'CONAUGHEY GAINS 6,700 ACRE-FEET FROM RAINS

The net gain in storage at Lake McConaughey as the result of recent torrential rains along the North Platte River was 6,700 acre-feet, Chief Dan Jones of the State Irrigation Bureau reported Wednesday.

This is the equivalent of three days' withdrawal from the reservoir just preceding the storms. Or it would be enough to irrigate about 3,500 acres in a "normal" season. The rains occurred June 25 and 26. The crest of the high water which caused some flooding in the Scottsbluff area reached the reservoir about a week later.

Inflow at Lake McConaughey exceeded the outflow at Kingsley Dam from June 30 to July 3, Jones said. The maximum inflow during the period was at the rate of 4,890 second-feet. Outflow in the same period was 1,350 second-feet.

Lessened Demand The withdrawal rate is low for this period, Jones commented, because rains down the valley have lessened the demand.

Despite somewhat improved conditions this year, total storage in the reservoir is under last year's figure at this time.

The amount on July 4 was reported as 1,185,000 acre-feet, compared to 1,474,000 acre-feet at this time a year ago.

Aged Twins

SATANTA, Kan. (P)—Mrs. Josey Short Shadden, of Montezuma, Kan., and John Henry Short, of Nicoma Park, Okla., think they may well be the world's oldest brother-sister twins. They'll be 93 next Nov. 18. They were born near Hopkinsville, Ky.; later homesteaded in the opening of the Cherokee Strip in Oklahoma.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

Well, I notice there is a new book out about General George Armstrong Custer and his last stand. The idea, as I get it, is Custer shoulda stood in bed.

I think it is interesting to note that Congress is still being sued for various agreements made with our feathered friends whose grandpappies gave George the business at Little Big Horn.

A good deal of this is probably due to the current movies where Crazy Horse came up recently looking like a fox and smelling like a rose.

When I was a boy the movies informed me that "the only good Indian is a dead Indian." They remarked this in subtitles (for sound had not been discovered) and Mr. William S. Hart and other ironclad stalwarts blew the daylight out of the pesky redskins.

I never felt I had my Saturday afternoon's worth unless the U. S. Cavalry sabered me up a mess of Sioux like so much shish kebab.

The result of this is that Sitting Bull is sitting pretty. And Congress voted a couple of million dollars to Indians in Utah. Minus a couple of skins for their paleface mouthpiece.

Oklahoma Indians are gushing oil and everybody who has a touch of Cherokee in his background is rising to declare same.

I do not blame them. It seems to me if we are going to give the country back to the Indians, every brave and squaw should hurry and get a hand hold.

It is surely confusing to a boy who was brought up on fearsome tales of what Crazy Horse did to Custer. It requires a whole new approach to my bow and arrow philosophy.

If I could discover that I was the last of the Mohicans, I would hire a lawyer and declare myself in for a piece of the national wampum.

Nowadays all the little boys have to be Custer and shady Indian agents and such. All the big boys are noble redmen. It has added reward in that if you are an Indian today, you have a pretty good case in court tomorrow. Any boy can see this is better than working in a grocery store.

Up to the new Hollywood version, being an Indian was not much of a bargain. You could shoot deer out of season and there was no limit on your salmon catch.

There was some law that an Indian could not be served liquor. But the law was interpreted lightly.

Just call me Rain-in-the-Face and hand me my solid gold umbrella, Great White Father in Washington. I will draw myself up in my GE electric blanket and look the paleface squarely in the eye.

"Why paleface come to Injun land? Scare away game. Especially the imported ringneck pheasants Injun just planted on his spacious acres. Why paleface picnic on front lawn? Make heap big noise around Injun's two story Georgian tepee.

"Better paleface get off Injun reservation. Because this is one place paleface got no reservation. "And in fact this Injun advises paleface is to gidouda here. This time the cavalry is on our side."

METHODS OF EVALUATING IRRIGATION WELLS DIFFER

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington said Wednesday assessors are using two different methods of evaluating irrigation wells, which are becoming an increasingly important factor in Nebraska's economy.

The most common practice is to place a flat value on the well, he said. But many assessors are placing a flat value per acre on the land being irrigated from the well.

Some Variations

There are some variations. Where the land is rented and the pump and motor belong to the tenant, they are listed on his return as personal property, while the well is assessed to the owner of the land as real estate.

Herrington said his office has received more telephone calls and mail about irrigation wells than about anything else this year.

He said an attempt will be made

War In Philippines

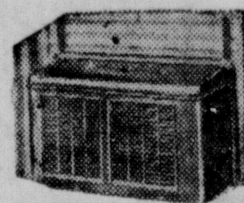

MANILA (P)—The Philippine government has fought a small war for a year and victory still is not in sight. The war is against the Moro bandits of Kabilon, who rule on the southern island of Jolo. The army reports 29 bandits killed, 81 wounded, 117 captured and 78 surrendered in the first year. The army lost 52 killed and 84 wounded.

Chiefs Blow Big Lead, Lose 6-5

Des Moines Wins Second In Row On Rally In 8th

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Lincoln's staggering Chiefs blew a five run lead over Des Moines Wednesday night as the Bruins took their second straight victory over the Sherman Field crew, 6-5.

Jim Wilson Shuts Out Yanks 4-0

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jim Wilson shut out the league leading Yankees on four hits and batted in two runs to help drive Whitey Ford off the mound Wednesday night as the lowly Baltimore Orioles handed New York its fourth straight defeat, 4-0.

A crowd of 18,743 saw the Baltimore club win its second straight game after losing 12 in a row. It also was only the second time the Orioles have defeated the Yanks in 13 meetings this season.

All of Baltimore's runs came in the fourth inning which also saw Oriole Manager Paul Richards ejected for arguing with Umpire Bill McKinley over a close play at first.

Dave Philley opened the inning with a hit to left which bounced in front of Irv Noren, then hopped over his head for a double. Gus Triandos grounded out Eddie Robinson's glove but was thrown out. Gil McDougald to Robinson in a close play which started the argument. Philley took third on the play.

Hoot Evers drew a walk, the third off Ford and went to second as Philley scored on Hal Smith's single to center. Chuck Diering flew deep to Noren against the left field wall for the second out and then the fireworks started.

Law Gives Bucs Split With Bums

PITTSBURGH (P)—Pitcher Vernon Law struck out 10 men as he hurled the last place Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 victory over the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers in the second game of a two-nighter Wednesday night. The Dodgers rallied for six runs in the last three innings to win the first game 10-5.

The Dodgers threatened in the ninth when Don Zimmer and Junior Gilliam singled with only one out but Law got Al Walker to hit into a game-ending double play.

The Pirates, who tied a major league record by blasting three consecutive homers in the sixth inning of the first game, exploded for three runs in the eighth inning to win the nightcap. The key blow was a triple by George Freese but Law helped his own cause by doubling in a run.

The defeat was charged to fireman Ed Roebuck, who also was called upon in the first game and hurled superlatively after starter Carl Erskine had gotten into an eighth inning jam.

Roebuck came into the second game in the fifth inning with the bases loaded, two out and the score tied 1-1.

Johnson Draws Suspension In Probe Of Fight Drugging

HARRISBURG (P)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission Wednesday night suspended No. 1 light heavyweight boxing contender Harold Johnson for six months as the result of a bout in Philadelphia in which the commission said Johnson was drugged.

In a 19-page report on nine days of hearings into the fight, the commission also revoked the matchmaker's and promoter's licenses of Pete Moran and suspended Johnson's manager, Thomas Loughran for six months. Loughran is better known as Thomas J. Loughran.

Moran, also known as Pete Mangine, was an employee of Herman Taylor, Sports Enterprises, promoter of the Johnson-Julio Mederos fight last May 6.

The commission said Johnson had administered to him barbiturate drugs by a person or persons unknown prior to the fight.

Johnson was unable to answer the bell for the third round.

Beatrice Host To State JC Junior Golf Meet Today

BEATRICE—About 45 top golfers from over the state began practice rounds at the Beatrice Country Club Wednesday in preparation for the Jaycee state junior golf tournament. The tournament opens Thursday at 10 a.m. with 18 holes of medal play.

The final 18 will be played Friday.

Pro Bob Legenza said there will be four places open for expense-free trips to Columbus, Ga. for the national Jaycee tournament to be held in August.

Strong contenders are expected to be Bud Williamson Jr. of Lincoln; Bob Epstein of Omaha; and Mark Nelson of Fremont.

Tigers Led To 5-3 Win By Amazing Al Kaline

DETROIT (AP)—Amazing Al Kaline slugged a two-run homer over the left-field screen in the first inning Wednesday, starting the Detroit Tigers to a 5-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

It snapped the Tigers' six-game losing streak—their longest in two years.

Kaline connected off loser Virgil Trucks following an inning-opening single by Harvey Kuenn and a forceout grounder by Bill Tuggle.

It was Kaline's 18th homer of the season and gave him 65 runs batted in. He later doubled to left center, pushing his league-leading batting average to .375.

Ned Garver went all the way for Detroit, pitching out of frequent trouble as he recorded his first victory since June 7. It brought his overall mark to 6-9.

The curve-balling right-hander, touched for 10 hits, twice worked out of bases-loaded jams. He got Jim Rivera on a ground out in the fourth and fanned pinch hitter Bob Nieman in the fifth, both times with the sacks filled.

Trucks gave up a second-inning home run to Fred Hatfield and left after four innings, charged with his sixth loss against eight victories. A stream of four relief pitchers followed him to the mound, three of them working in the eighth when the Tigers added their final two runs on a double by Kuenn, an intentional walk to Kaline and singles by Earl Torgeson and Ray Boone.

The Sox scored in the first on a double by Jim Busby, who had four hits, a bunt single by Nellie Fox and an infield grounder by Rivera. Their second tally came in the third on a trio of singles by Busby, Rivera and George Kell.

The same trio figured in a Chicago run in the ninth. Busby and Rivera singled and Busby came home after a foul fly by Kell.

Platte Valley All-Star Tilt Squads Named

WATERLOO—Friday, July 15, is the date for the annual Platte Valley League all-star game which will be played at the Douglas County Fairgrounds in Waterloo starting at 8:15 p.m.

Twenty-four player squads from the North and South divisions of the 12-team league will square off.

No player will be allowed to perform for more than four and one-half innings.

Members of the South squad:

Ashland—Wayne Cones, pitcher; Ivan Rogers, catcher; Bob Steffen, infield; Keith Pollard, outfield.

Millard—Don Keiser, infield; Wayne Nolting, infield; Gary Reimers, outfield; Dick Schroeder, outfield.

Yutan—Elmer Hamilton, pitcher; Lonnie Hiett, outfield; Irvine Heidt, outfield; Bill Karloff, outfield.

Farmington—Bernie Rezek, pitcher; John Morse, catcher; Lindy Wolver, outfield; Gil Dunne, infield.

Gretna—Sam Dietz, infield; Ron Sawyer, infield; Bob Mowinkel, infield; Barton Fleck, outfield.

Ralston—Ollie Mayfield, pitcher; Wayne Wooster, catcher; Harold Suehm, infield; Jack Teshack, outfield.

South managers will be Don Washburn of Ashland and Warren Hayes of Yutan.

Members of the North squad:

Kennard—Roger Jensen, pitcher; Bob Pluise, catcher; Red Misdell, infield; Ken Christensen, infield; Don Robinson, outfield; Don Watts, outfield.

St. Albans—Glen Linton, pitcher; Larry Cronin, catcher; Robert Haas, infield; Murren Suverkrubbe, infield.

Bennington—John Horvath, pitcher; Roman Allison, catcher; Lee Meves, infield; Tom Gates, outfield.

Elkhorn—Tom Bartels, pitcher; Bob Daly, infield; Bob Gottsch, outfield; Pat Gottsch, outfield; Barney Gottsch, infield.

Valley—Wes Brinke, pitcher; John Hessler, infield.

Venice—Charles Williams, catcher; Alan Howard, outfield; Leroy Durant, outfield.

Managers of the North team are Don Peetz of Bennington and Don Watts of Kennard.

Last year the South squad rallied in the late innings to win the all-star game 11 to 1 at Millard.

Gene Conley Captures 10th By Defeating Cubs 5 To 1

CHICAGO (AP)—Gene Conley, selected for the National League All-Star team, Wednesday became the first Milwaukee pitcher to win 10 games when he hurled the Braves to a 5-1 conquest over the Chicago Cubs before a Ladies' Day crowd of 40,985.

Conley yielded just three hits in posting his first win since June 20, and missed a shutout when he yielded a leadoff single to pinch batter Frankie Baumholtz in the sixth. This swat, bled with Hank Aaron's error, a walk to Gene Baker, and rookie Jim King's single, led to Chicago's score.

The Braves blasted a total of 11 hits off three Chicago pitchers as starter Bob Rush suffered his fifth loss.

The victory, Milwaukee's eighth in 13 games against the Cubs, pulled Charlie Grimm's gang within one game of the second place Chicagoans.

The Braves gained a 1-0 lead in the second on Bobby Thomson's pop-fly double and Joe Adcock's single.

Milwaukee made it 3-0 in the third on Billy Bruton's leadoff single, and Eddie Mathews' 21st homer, a drive over the right-field screen.

A walk, a force play and Del Crandall's steal of second preceded Conley's single for the third place's fourth run in the fourth.

Milwaukee posted its final marker in the sixth when Crandall singled with two out, and rode across on Jack Dittmer's triple.

Conley fanned seven and walked three in beating the Cubs a fifth straight time.

The huge turnout, caused a half-hour traffic jam in a radius of three miles around the ball park. Seventeen thousand three hundred thirty three ladies took advantage of the season's first gratis gate at Wrigley field this season.

U NU Levels Sharp Blast On U.S. Foreign Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—Prime Minister U Nu of Burma sharply criticized U.S. foreign policy Wednesday night after declaring he got the impression that "responsible leaders" in Washington are not opposed to Red China's entry into the U.N. but are biding time.

The visiting Burmese statesman, currently touring American cities, indirectly rebuked the U.S. for allying itself with Nationalist China and declared that Communist China "truly wants peace" with the U.S.

He declared that the U.S. has shocked and disappointed admirers in Asia by siding with the "colonial powers" and backing regimes "which by no stretch of the imagination can be regarded as governments of the people, for the people, by the people." He added:

"To make matters worse some

She was born in Norgo, Russia. She was a member of the Emanuel Reformed Church in Lincoln.

Her husband, Henry, died in 1934.

Surviving are two sons, Adam of Lincoln and Alex of Omaha; three daughters, Mrs. Floyd Burns of Des Moines, Ia., Mrs. John Kappeler of Lincoln and Mrs. Donald Griffin of Lakeview, Ore.; three sisters, Mrs. Conrad Schilreff, Mrs. H. J. Bernhardt and Mrs. Pete Burbach of Lincoln; 15 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Harvey Rader Rites Held Here

Services were held at Roberts Chapel for Harvey Rader, 68, the Rev. Harold C. Sandall of Grace Methodist Church officiating. Burial was at Wyuka cemetery.

Mr. Rader had been a resident of Nebraska all his life. He was born near Ceresco, and at the age of six he moved with his parents to a farm near Davey where he resided until his death.

Surviving are a sister, Margaret, and several cousins.

N.Y. STOCKS HIGHER; GM SETS PACE

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors paced the blue chips to major advances on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday.

The big auto maker leaped $14.38 a share to close at $127.75 following Tuesday's news of a proposed three-for-one stock split.

With 167,100 shares traded, GM was the day's most active stock.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.40 to a new high of $176.40, but mainly on the strength of GM and the other blue chips. While industrials were up, railroads and utilities were down.

Trading in GM was suspended an hour and 45 minutes after the opening until a price of $128 a share was agreed on for the big opening block of 85,000 shares, probably the biggest money transaction—nearly 11 million dollars—in exchange history.

of the undemocratic, corrupt and discredited regimes which are being so supported (by the U.S.) have already been repudiated by the people concerned.

"The effect of this on some Asian minds has been to build up the impression that America is against change, that it wishes to preserve the status quo, even where this is against the wishes of the people."

Exaggerate

U Nu urged the U.S. to "live up to its heritage" of freedom and democracy, warning that the country "tends to exaggerate its fear of the menace of Communism." He said America should engage in direct talks on Far East problems with the Peiping regime and said he returned from his recent visit to the Red capital "convinced that the people and present government of China need and want peace."

U Nu made the statement in an appearance before the Overseas Press Club. Earlier at a news conference at U.N. headquarters he said he received the impression during his recent talks in Washington that "responsible leaders" in the capital do not oppose Peiping's admission to the U.N. but are waiting for the proper moment before acting on the question.

Surprised

(In Washington, U.S. officials expressed surprise at the Burmese premier's statement regarding Red China's admission to U.N. They pointed out the U.S. has never ruled out its eventual admission, but emphasized there is nothing in sight that would make such a move likely for a number of years. One official said basically the decision does not rest with the State Department but more with public opinion and Congress, and that there is no evidence of any public opinion change that would favor admission of Peiping to the U.N.)

U Nu stressed that the 1956 U.S. presidential elections will have no bearing on the U.S. decision to support Communist China's admission to the U.N. He said:

"American leaders are bold enough to act despite the elections. If they feel that the time is ripe to act on China's admission, they will do so despite any election."

Mrs. Hartman died Sunday at her home in Strathmore, Calif., after suffering a heart attack while on a mountain trip.

After living in Stella and other Richardson County communities Mrs. Hartman lived in Lincoln from 1930 to 1935 before moving to California.

She is survived by her husband, Paul; two sons, Harold Sayers of Plattsmouth and Wilber Sayers of Lincoln; two daughters, Mrs. Avis Rhoades and Mrs. Emma Jewett of San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Roy Knapp of Lincoln; two brothers, Clifford Gerdes of Nebraska City and Kenneth Gerdes of Creighton, Mo.; 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Embassy Probing

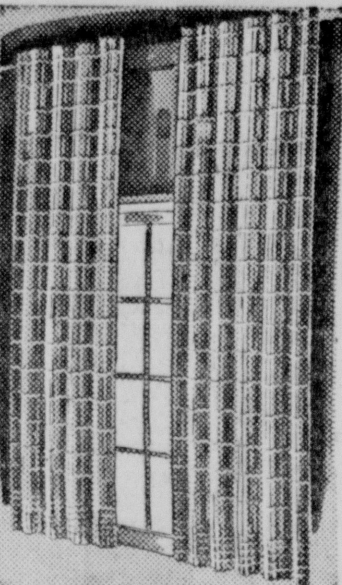

LONDON (AP)—Minister of State Anthony Nutting said a former British woman living in Prague "was removed from her home by Czechoslovak authorities, and Her Majesty's Embassy is making urgent inquiries." He said the woman was Mrs. Phyllis Sispara, former wife of a Czech airman. She has been seeking to leave Czechoslovakia. Nutting told the House of Commons Mrs. Sispara had been told she could leave only if her two children remained behind.

SENATE OKAYS TREATIES ON PRISONER TREATMENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday approved 77-0 four treaties designed to establish a pattern of decent international conduct toward prisoners of war and civilians captured by an enemy. The pacts, already ratified by the Soviet Union and 47 other nations, were negotiated at Geneva in 1949.

'Slave Labor' Hit

In a brief Senate discussion, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California hit at Russia for "well-substantiated" reports that "thousands" of German and Japanese prisoners of war taken during World War II are still held as "slave labor" in Russia.

Knowland said no one could know "if the Soviet Union will comply" with terms of the new treaties on such matters as quick repatriation of prisoners after the member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which reported the treaties to the Senate, said they contain provisions which "any civilized nation should be glad" to comply with.

'Humane Practices'

Sen. Barkley (D-Ky), also a committee member, told the senate the treaties provide for the kind of "humane practices the United States has followed over a long period of time." The treaties deal separately with the status of prisoners of war, sick military personnel, and sick and shipwrecked members of the armed services at sea.

Reservations

The Senate wrote several reservations into its approval of the pacts. One would enable U.S.

concerns which have used the Red Cross emblem as a trade-mark since 1905 to continue doing so, provided it is not placed on buildings or other conspicuous places.

In another, the Senate reserved to the United States the right to impose death penalties for severe offenses by citizens of U.S. occupied nations during war time, whether that nations own law would call for the death penalty or not.

The Senate also made clear that U.S. ratification would not compel the United States to recognize reservations entered into by other signatory nations, mainly the Soviet bloc.

Minister Gets U.S. Home Without Approval Of Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without the approval of President Eisenhower, the privilege of living permanently in the United States was granted Wednesday to a priest who left the Roman Catholic Church, became a Baptist minister and is married to an American school teacher.

Aniceto Mario Sparagna, 42, who came from Italy and now lives in Vincentown, N. J., is the central figure in this unusual situation.

The White House announced a bill granting permanent residence to the clergyman became law at midnight without the President's signature. A bill becomes law if the President fails either to sign it or veto it within 10 days.

The White House gave no explanation of why the President declined to act. This is the fifth time a bill has become law in this manner since Eisenhower took office.

Fraudulent

The Immigration and Naturalization Service planned to deport Sparagna on the ground he made fraudulent statements in obtaining a visa to enter this country as a nonquota immigrant in 1950.

The service said Sparagna swore he was on his way to serve as assistant pastor at St. Raphael's Church in New York City and that the church would be responsible for his support. Actually, the service said, he had already left the Catholic church and was ordained a Baptist minister a month after he entered the United States.

Sparagna denied any willful fraud. He said the affidavit was prepared by a friend and blamed his troubles on "ignorance of the language and American laws and the ill advice of well meaning friends."

In a letter to Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) who sponsored the bill, Ralph V. Graham of Philadelphia, a high official in the Church of Christ, said that if Sparagna were sent back to Italy "his life would be put in jeopardy."

'One Of Love'

The letter said he would be denied the right of exercising his religious activity in a nation where there is no separation of church and state and where the Church of Christ has already suffered persecutions at the hands of the Italian government.

Graham also said Sparagna's 1952 marriage to Viola Cutts, a 4,000-a-year school teacher who owns a house and a 26 acre farm, "was one of love and not at all connected with the immigration problem."

While a Baptist, he had been the $300 a month minister of the West Collingswood (New Jersey) Church of Christ since Oct. 15, 1950. The Church of Christ recognizes an ordination performed in the Baptist Church.

Since last June he has been recording religious speeches to be broadcast weekly over Radio Monte Carlo. Graham said the clergyman's "successful and unique work" in behalf of about 15,000 congregations in this country "cannot be substituted by anyone else at the present time."

Johnson Attack Close; January Return Forecast

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's personal physician said Wednesday the Democratic leader narrowly escaped death when stricken by a heart attack Saturday but should be able to resume his duties in January.

Dr. James Cain, a staff physician at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and a close friend of Johnson's, said the senator is "improving steadily."

He reported, however, that after being hit by the heart attack at the home of a friend Saturday, Johnson "went into shock" and "only through the efforts of some very fine doctors is he here with us."

Johnson remains on the serious list at Bethesda Naval Hospital but authorities reported the 46-year-old Texan is continuing to show progress.

Cain told newsmen that every change in Johnson's condition since Saturday has been one of improvement.

He commented: "He is better today than at any time. I'm extremely hopeful he will get over this acute attack quite well. Of course, anything could happen with anyone who has had this severe an attack."

GM Gains 4 3/8, Plans Stock Split

NEW YORK — General Motors stole the show in the stock market Wednesday with an advance of 14 1/2 at 127 1/2 following a split proposal.

The stock was up 3 1/2 Tuesday, and after the close directors proposed that the present stock be split into three new shares.

That would give the corporation around 279 million shares of stock.

Wednesday there was a grand rush to buy GM, and it took the governors of the New York Stock Exchange and members who specialize in trading in GM stock about 45 minutes to match the buying and selling orders.

The stock moved up 12 1/2, hit a peak of 128 1/2 and closed at 127 1/2, a net gain of 14 1/2.

On Point, which owns some 21 million shares of GM, went up 10 1/2 Tuesday and 2 1/2 Wednesday to close at 246 1/2.

The great strength of General Motors insured major advances in many other stocks now candidates for splits in the Wall Street rumor mills.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.40 at a new record high of $178.40.

That rise was mainly caused by the strength in GM and other blue chip stocks.

The industrial component was ahead $4.30 at a new high of $247.20, but railroads were down $1.20 and utilities were down 10 cents.

The market as a whole accounted for 3,140,000 shares, compared with 2,680,000 shares traded in Tuesday's higher market.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK — Some convertible issues and foreign obligations stood out Wednesday in an otherwise narrowly mixed bond market.

After the counter trading, U. S. government bonds were quiet and steady.

The 40 year 3 were unchanged at 100 1/2 and the 2 1/2 of 1960 held firm at 97 3/32 bid.

Intermediate and long term issues ranged from 92 1/2 bid to the 3 1/2 of 1960 at 100 1/2.

Corporate bonds, a shade higher earlier in the day, closed in a mild pattern, with turnover increasing as prices fell back.

Volume of bond transactions on the New York stock exchange amounted to 45,483,000 par value, highest since June 15.

This compared with 33,080,000 Tuesday and 33,600,000 a week ago.

AP COMMODITY INDEX

NEW YORK — The Associated Press weighted average price index of 35 commodities Wednesday declined to 170.55.

Previous day 170.70, week ago 171.72, month ago 170.61, year ago 172.50.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK — Stocks—Higher; general motors strong.

Bonds—Quiet; some rails improve.

Cotton—Steady; trading quiet.

CHICAGO: Wheat—Strong; mill buying.

Corn—Easy; good crop prospects.

Oats—Firm; trade light.

Hogs—Butchers down 50 to 75 cents; top $20.00.

Cattle—Steers steady to 50 cents higher; top $26.00.

Wheat Futures Up; Other Grains Vary

CHICAGO — Modest purchase from flour mills, coupled with additional buying by investors and speculators, sent wheat up for gains extending to 2 cents on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Several wheat futures were up nearly three cents at one time but a little profit taking in the last few minutes by short term traders cut back the gains.

Other cereals never matched the strength of wheat, although oats firmed. This was largely a technical rebound after setting of new seasonal lows in the previous session.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 2 cents higher, corn 1/2 to 1 cent higher, oats 1/2 to 1 cent higher, soybeans 1/2 to 1 cent higher, and rice 1/2 to 1 cent higher.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A law student Wednesday told police he killed a wealthy young society divorcee because she not only spurned him but fell asleep as he pleaded his love for her.

After 14 hours of questioning, John Russell Crooker Jr., 31, broke down and sobbed out a story of stabbing and strangling Mrs. Norma McCauley, 33, mother of three children, ex-wife of a World War II ace and daughter of a millionaire contractor.

Death In A Gay Dress
The body of the victim, still in the gay red party dress she wore to a Fourth of July party, was found in her Bel Air home Tuesday.

Crooker was arrested after police found what they termed "intellectual love letters" from him in the woman's home.

Police said he re-enacted the slaying and sobbed, "I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I was in love with her."

Had In Closet
Sgt. Jack Hooper said Crooker told investigators he had formerly worked as a houseboy for Mrs. McCauley, later had dated her and that they broke up because of a lover's quarrel. Crooker said he wanted to talk to her alone so went to the home on Independence Day and hid in a clothes closet. He continued:

"About midnight Norma came home and went into a bedroom. I followed. We talked about an hour, with me trying to get her to come back to me. She either went to sleep or pretended to sleep on the chaise longue.

"When I tried to wake her up to continue our talks, I could not arouse her and this incensed me. I started to choke her and shake her with both hands and she started to scream."

Crooker said he then stabbed the woman and knotted her stole around her neck and "held it with both hands until I was sure she was dead."

The law student was booked on suspicion of murder and jailed. Officers said he is married but separated from his wife. They have two children. Crooker has been working his way through law school, and it was through a school employment office that he got the job as the McCauley houseboy.

Crooker denied he was the cause of Mrs. McCauley's divorce last March 3 from businessman and former Air Force ace Frank E. McCauley. Her divorce was granted on grounds of cruelty.

Brilliant Student

The Fourth of July party was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson Sr. Mrs.

McCauley had taken her children, Craig, 7, Kirk, 5, and Kevin, 2, home about 10:30 p.m. and then returned to the affair. Shortly after midnight she went home again. Crooker's wife, Marion, said she and her husband had been separated three years but never divorced. "He was a brilliant student. He didn't seem to have a homicidal temper," she said. "It was no worse than most people's."
